MARYLAND

Coach Joe Krivak

We have Maryland Crab Soup in the press box (no Snapper Soup), the inestimable Joe Blair to answer Terp questions, a natural turf field, a locale given to good restaurants and sightseeing, a campus of colonial brick and Georgian columns, and a football tradition that includes eight bowl appearances since 1977. There is nothing slow about the Maryland Terrapin.

Before Your Visit

Credentials should be ordered from the Sports Information Office (Dee Stough) at least a fortnight (English football for two weeks) ahead of your visit. Requests should be mailed and on the letterhead of the requestor, and only working press will be admitted to the Byrd Stadium press box. Since some games prove more equal than others, it should be kept in mind that the Byrd Box has limited seating and an early request could make a difference in getting space.

Maryland Hunt Valley-Crab Soup

2 cups chopped onion; 2 cups chopped celery; 1 cup chopped carrots, 1 cup chopped green peppers; 3 qts. chicken or fish stock; 4 ozs. ground beef; 4 ozs. butter; 1 tsp. Old Bay seasoning; 1/4 tsp. tyme; 1/4 tsp. black pepper; 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper; 1/2 tsp. salt; one 28 oz. can of tomatoes; 1 1/2 lbs. back fin crab meat. Mix all ingredients, except crab meat, and simmer slowly. Skim the surface during heating, and cook until the vegetables are soft. Add crab meat and cook for 10 minutes, while stirring carefully. Feeds 12.

Player Interviews may be ordered through Herb Hartnett, Joe Blair, or Ivan Meltzer. They need 24 hours advance notice to arrange an interview, which is best accomplished in-person around daily practices.
Student-athletes will return phone calls when requested; their phone numbers will not be distributed. A request may be made to have a student-athlete (when class schedules allow it) attend Coach Krivak's weekly press luncheon. Coach Krivak may be interviewed by telephone regarding next week's games on Sunday afternoons (approximately 3:30 to 5 p.m.). He is available for in-person interviews during and after his Tuesday Noon press luncheons that are located in the Adult Education Building on campus, and before and after daily practices. On Wednesday he may be heard as part of the ACC Football Teleconference, which begins at 11:00 a.m. with each league coach on for 10 minutes. The Teleconference ends at 12:20 p.m., and Krivak can be heard each week between 11:30-11:40 a.m. On Thursday he is available in his office between 12:30 and 2 p.m. He requests that the media do not try to interview student-athletes between team meetings at any time. On Fridays, the best time to interview Krivak is after the short practice that occurs the day before a game. Student-athletes are available for interviews on Monday, but not Coach Krivak.

Recorded interviews with Coach Krivak are provided for the press by Maryland's University radio station, WMUC, at 301-454-7420.

Terrapin Game Day

Working press and photo credentials will be mailed by Dee Stough when possible. Credentials that can't be mailed are available at Window Six on the south (or press box) side of Byrd Stadium.

Press Parking passes are honored in the parking garage next to Cole Field House, which is across the street from the Byrd Press Box.

The Byrd Press Box is located at the top of the south stands and is noticeable because it has most of the available bowl game logos on it. The media is on the second level, and will enter by the second level for the first time on exterior stairs. An exception is visiting radio which is on the first level. Originating television crews and overflow electronic media are put in the penthouse (roof).

Photographers before the game will be issued arm bands at midfield behind the Maryland bench. The sports information photo coordinator on the sidelines is Heather Lewis. No photographer will be allowed to work unless they have both the photographer's pass which gained them admittance, and an arm band.

Working Press with computers are asked to notify Dee Stough when making their press requests so that the reporter may be placed near a telephone. Press needing to write will be provided table space over other requests. Telephones will be available in the press box to transmit stories, or to call home. Those wishing a private line may order one from Jill Owens, Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland, 301-852-4540.

Post Game

Complete statistics will be distributed, including the necessarily approximate tackle totals, for those who need to have post-game numbers. Quotations from both coaches will be duplicated for those unable to hear two coaches speak at the same time in two different places.

The Play-by-Play takes on added color this year. At the keyboard is Jeff Rhodes, who brings Clemson Colloquialisms to the ACC's northern most post.

Food service is available on the second level from the Maryland Dining Service under the direction of Matt Sheriff, James Allenchey, and Robert Palmisano. Crab soup has been added to an already solid menu.

The Fax Man is Joe Blair, who will route your copy through our latest equipment purchase, a Savin Fax. Please let Joe know if you need to move the printed page.

Post Game Interviews for Maryland will be held in the Football Building just north of the stadium's new, 21st century scoreboard, and are coordinated by Ivan Meltzer. Coach Krivak will come to the interview room after talking to his team in the lockerroom, which will be closed. Any player the media wants to interview will be escorted to the interview room with Krivak. Visiting coaches and players are available at the visitor's lockerroom which is between the Football Building and the Stadium Scoreboard. Visiting SIDs coordinate these interviews.

A wrap-up of the game is on the Terphone (301-454-TERP).

Acting President

Dr. William E. Kirwan

A mathematician of international repute with 24 years of service to the University of Maryland, College Park, Dr. Kirwan is in his second stint as acting chief executive officer. He has been Professor of Mathematics (1972 to the present), Chairman of the Department (1977 to 1981), Vice Chancellor and now Vice President for Academic Affairs (1981 to the present), and Provost (1986 to the present). In 1982 he directed the school as Acting Chancellor for four months; he has directed the campus since July 1 as Acting President. His only separations from Maryland since his arrival in 1964 as Assistant Professor were to act as visiting lecturer at the University of London (1966-67), and to serve as Program Director of the National Science Foundation (1975-76).

Dr. Kirwan served as an assistant instructor at Rutgers while earning his master's (1962) and Ph.D. (1964) degrees. He was appointed an assistant professor at Maryland in 1964 and he has been here since. A native of Kentucky, he earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Kentucky in 1960 and was awarded Phi Beta Kappa honors. He went to Kentucky on a football scholarship, and his father also coached there.

His service to the University includes chairing committees on Promotion & Tenure, Academic Planning, and University Priorities.

Director of Athletics

Lew Perkins

An educator and administrator who has gained national bearing in intercollegiate athletics, Perkins earned his way to Maryland by building one athletic department from its beginning (South Carolina at Aiken, 1969-80), infusing a traditional program with record-setting growth (Pennsylvania, 1980-83), and rebuilding the fortunes of Wichita State (1983-87). His arrival at Maryland in the spring of 1987 signalled a renewed drive on the University's part to achieve equilibrium between quality academics and athletics. Since then Perkins has restructured the department's staffing, putting top priority on academics with the creation of a distinguished Academic Support Unit. Football will benefit from an ambitious development drive that unites almost $3 million in state funds with University contributions to upgrade Maryland facilities. Sports once labelled "non-revenue" are now Varsity Sports. An NCAA field hockey championship was won in his first autumn, women's basketball won the ACC Championship and advanced to the Final Eight, and men's basketball surprised by advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

A native of Massachusetts, Perkins played baskebtall for some of Iowa's most powerful teams (1965-67), earning his undergraduate degree in 1967. He went to USC-Aiken two years later as Head Basketall Coach and Director of Athletics, achieving success in both areas. His appointment at Pennsylvania as Associate Director was marked by helping to build the most successful Ivy League football program of the past decade from a base of two wins in three years.

His challenge at Wichita State was to unite the athletic department with the University and community, and with its athletic peers in the NCAA. His rewards included being cited by the Arizona Republic as one of the nation's best athletic directors, and in an unprecented move, Wichita State was cited by the NCAA for running an exemplary program.

Perkins, 43, is married to the former Gwen Flaum. Like Lew, she earned both an undergraduate degree from Iowa and a master's in education from the University of South Carolina. They have two daughters, Amy, 17, and Holly, 15.

The book was accomplished with the considerable help of the University's Paula Mandelman.

The University

Chartered in 1856, The University of Maryland College Park has grown far beyond its founders' vision as a college for planters' sons. Today, the University has emerged as a leading force in American higher education. With more than 110 majors for undergraduates to choose from, College Park offers one of the most comprehensive course selections available. At the cutting edge of science and technology, the campus is also firmly grounded in the humanities and liberal and performing arts. Moreover, Maryland is one of a small group of academic institutions that consistently dominates when judged by the most influential rating groups, including Phi Beta Kappa, the American Council on Education, the National Academy of Science, and the Association of American Universities. All rank Maryland as one of the nation's premier public universities.

The Campus

College Park's cosmopolitan setting attracts students from every state and more than 100 countries. They bring varied ideas, carry contrasting values, follow different lifestyles, and pursue different goals. The campus itself numbers 1,539 acres and contains more than 200 major buildings. Among them: a Computer Science Center that has become a model for universities nationwide, and a campus library system stocked with 3 million volumes and microfilm units. Housing options include traditional and modern dorms and numerous Greek sororities and fraternities. The courtyards and groves that dot the campus are ideal spots for study or relaxation.

The Faculty

The reputation of any major university is based on the caliber of its faculty. College Park faculty are leaders in their fields, as confirmed by the impressive number of Pulitzer Prizes, Guggenheim Fellowships and National Medals of Science awarded to them. Faculty here have pioneered the use of lasers in the operating room, written the definitive biographies of William Shakespeare and black educator Booker T. Washington, and founded a campus chorus that is internationally acclaimed. Undergraduates can work directly with these experts - from their very first term at College Park to their last. The student to teacher ratio is approximately 16 to 1 - as low as that at many small colleges. College Park professors will challenge you to think, to question assumptions and assertions, to explore and to discover.

The Students

Maryland students are a diverse group of motivated men and women. And the time they spend outside the classroom is critical to their success. Campus life at College Park means an award-winning student newspaper and FM radio station, championship athletic teams and intramural sports programs, Phi Beta Kappa and professional societies, and a University Theatre hailed by The Washington Post as one of the best in the metropolitan area.

The Locale

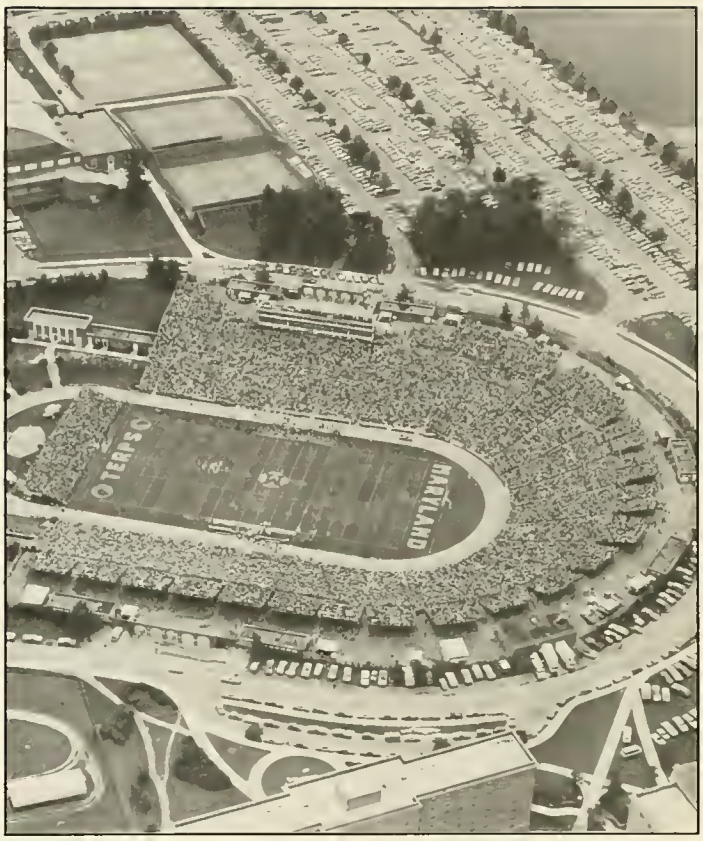
Nine miles from the nation's capital, College Park sits at the doorstep of some of the country's most important landmarks and institutions - from the United States Senate and the Smithsonian to the Library of Congress and the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. College Park is only a short drive from Baltimore - a great historical city and center of commerce, famed for its arts and architecture, new National Aquarium and colorful Inner Harbor. College Park's relationship with these two exceptional cities is not just one of proximity. Undergraduates receive hands-on experience at some of our most prominent agencies and governmental institutions - including NASA, the National Archives, and Congress itself. Because of its unique location College Park is also able to draw upon Nobel Prize winners, cabinet members, and internationally renowned scientists, artists, and writers who come to the campus to share their knowledge.

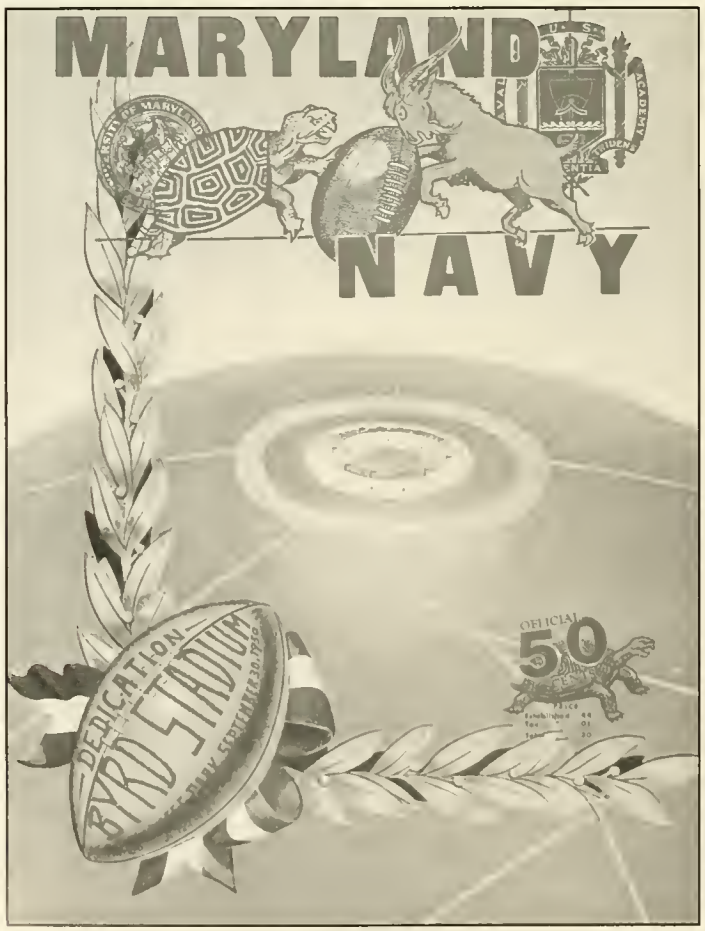
Byrd Stadium

Built in 1950, Byrd Stadium has been home to national championship football, field hockey, and lacrosse teams, and many ACC Championship track and field teams. It hosted the Queen of England at a football game in 1957 and was the stage where the fastest hurdler in history, Renaldo Nehemiah, performed his wonders. Many of the great moments in Maryland prep school history happened there, as well as the Special Olympics and every summer, The Maryland State Games. Byrd Stadium is a Maryland tradition.

Named after Dr. H.C. Byrd, who was both a football coach and college president, the stadium was part of the enormous post-World War II expansion of the University overseen by Byrd and Dr. Wilson Elkins. Soon to rise across Campus Drive from Byrd Stadium was Cole Field House (1953), another structure which was to become the centerpoint of both collegiate and prep athletics in the state.

The stadium presently seats 45,000, but with temporary seating placed in the end zones and around the top of the bowl, up to 58,973 (Penn State, Nov. 1, 1975) have witnessed games here. The Terrapins hosted Navy on opening day, September 30, 1950, in an era when Byrd Stadium was thought to be in the first phase of construction that would take it to 92,000 seats. Double-decking of the stadium was planned, and complete enclosure at the horseshoe end. Today, plans are being formulated to renovate Byrd Stadium, and increased seating will be part of the renovation, but within the classic bowl figuration of Byrd.





The program for the first game, Maryland vs. Navy, Sept. 30, 1950

Terp Traditions

Testudo, a Diamondback Turtle whose name is derived from the scientific classification for turtle (testudines), is the mascot of the University of Maryland. Testudo's flight to become official mascot was (there is no other description) slow. But once on top, Testudo has reigned with a bronze-like grip, peering at generations of younger Terps crossing in front of, or entering, the Theodore R. McKeldin Library in the heart of the College Park campus. The 500 pound terrapin's days of roving to conquer rival campuses at the behest of the College Park student body are over, his undisturbed regal bearing insured by his being bolted to a concrete throne.

The need for a mascot was essential in the early 1920s in a world littered with Wildcats, Tigers, Devils, Wolves, Bears, and all sorts of traditional names derived from a half-century of college athletics. Maryland was consolidated from different state schools in 1920 to form the base of today's wide-ranging state system and it needed a flag-carrier to do battle with Wahoos, Lions, and Generals.

Dr. H.C. Byrd, the University President in 1922, recommended the Diamondback as mascot in response to the student newspaper's search for an "official" leader. Although his suggestion was, indeed, "official," there were some who resisted, opting for the older and historically entrenched term, Old-Liners. A label derived from the Revolutionary War when Maryland soldiers earned the accolade for bravery and perseverence in the face of British troops, Old-Liners had a more vocal lobby than the speechless turtle.

By 1935, however, the Yearbook had changed its name from Reveille to Terrapin by a vote of the student body, and save for some splintered resistance, Testudo's family had won. Newspapers, even then exploring every angle, shortened Terrapin to Terp, but Testudo by any name is still a turtle.

Samuel P. Gorham of Providence, R.I., cast Testudo in bronze at the request of the Class of 1933. He was modeled after a feisty Diamondback that came from Dr. Byrd's hometown of Crisfield. Dr. Byrd's choice of mascot was not intended to reflect the docility of Maryland teams. As a small boy near his home he surely found out what so many others have discovered about Terrapins — they bite.

Colors

The colors of the University of Maryland are those of the state flag—gold, red, black and white.

Maryland's flag bears the arms of the Calvert and Crossland families. Calvert was the family name of the Lords Baltimore who founded Maryland, and their colors of gold and black appear in the first and fourth quarters of the flag. Crossland was the family of the mother of George Calvert, first Lord Baltimore. The red and white Crossland colors, with a Greek cross terminating in the foils, appear in the second and third quarters. The flag was first flown in its present form October 25, 1888, at Gettysburg Battlefield for ceremonies dedicating monuments to Maryland regiments of the Army of the Potomac. It was offically adopted in 1904. Maryland law requires that if any ornament is affixed to the top of a flagstaff carrying the Maryland flag, the ornament must be a gold cross bottony.

Testudo

Like the long trek of Testudo to become mascot, the trip for these colors to arrive as "official" was marked by factionalism. By the post World War II years, there was disgruntlement from the press and others that Maryland's fooball uniforms were difficult to read, and Old Gold and Black were deemed the colors, even though red had been an official color. By the time of Coach Jim Tatum's matchless era of success, which included a National Championship in 1953, the football team was back in red. Today's Maryland football teams incorporate all the colors of the state flag, although the predominate University of Maryland "fight" color is red.

Football in College Park

Football was recognized as an official school athletic function in 1892 when Maryland in College Park was the Maryland Agricultural College. It was played as early as 1889 in an era of informality, 33 years after the Agricultural College's founding.

The following excerpt from A History of the University of Maryland concerns these times before the University in Baltimore and College Park were consolidated to form the present state system. It is written from the perspective of the University in Baltimore. "Intercollegiate athletics has facilitated the development of many academic institutions, and at Maryland the new spirit was expressed in a football yell. In 1895 a medical school student named Norfleet Gibbs organized a medical-dental-law school football team that defeated Baltimore City College twice and lost to St. John's. The uniforms were a motley array of padded clothes with the letter M painted on the shirts, but the players were immediately heroes, and for the first time the students in the various schools felt a sense of unity. Students and faculty formed an athletic association; the professors paid for real uniforms; teams of baseball, ice hockey, track and basketball appeared; and friends of the Univeristy began reading about the institution in newspaper sports pages. Since many of the University players were much older than regular college students, there was difficulty finding opponents at first; but the University's approximately even won-lost record soon attracted such schools as the Maryland Agricultural College, St. John's, Navy, Georgtown and, occasionally, such distant schools as Rutgers and North Carolina. The greatest sports rival was Johns Hopkins, and contests with it in any sport attracted throngs of students, faculty and alumni. When a dental department professor won a prize at a state exhibition for a set of plates made of maroon and black rubber, the University teams adopted those colors as theirs. Freshmen received a pamphlet of University cheers to memorize, and frequently faculty members led the cheers: "Rif! Raf! Ruf!—Rif! Raf! Ruf!— University of Maryland!— Pretty Hot stuff!!!"

The cheer is no longer used.

The Agricultural College was renamed Maryland State College in 1916, and in 1920 that school merged with Baltimore to form what is today's state-wide University of Maryland. Football was played continuously through the name changes in College Park.

Head Coach Joe Krivak

The day was Wednesday, December 10, 1986 and Joseph John Krivak had just been named the new head football coach at the University of Maryland.

"I am looking forward to the challenge," said an elated Krivak following his appointment. "I feel that the University of Maryland is an outstanding institution and we will work hard to maintain the proud tradition of this football program."

Krivak most certainly deserved this assignment; he had served as a Division 1-A assistant for 18 years.

Before being named the head man in 1986, Krivak coached the Maryland quarterbacks and receivers for the previous five years. He began his tenure with the Terrapins in 1974, coaching the tight ends and wide receivers for three seasons.

Between his two terms in College Park, he served on the staff of present Atlantic Coast Conference rival and Virginia Head Coach George Welsh at the Naval Academy. Krivak coached the quarterbacks and receivers at Navy from 1977-81.

During his nine years at Maryland, the Terrapins have an overall record of 71-33-2. They have won six ACC championships and have traveled to seven bowl games. The Terps have played in the Liberty, Gator, Cotton, Aloha, Florida Citrus, Sun, and Cherry Bowls, winning three of those contests.

While he was at Navy, the Midshipmen had four of five winning seasons. Krivak went to three bowls during his stint at Annapolis.

In addition to coaching in 10 bowl games, Krivak played in the 1956 Cotton Bowl Classic while a linebacker, guard, and center at Syracuse University. He earned three varsity football letters as well as two varsity baseball letters during his athletic career with the Orangemen.

Krivak received his B.A. from Syracuse in 1957 and his M.A. from the same school in 1962.

Three of Krivak's former quarterback pupils are currently in the National Football League. Boomer Esiason is Cincinnati's starting quarterback; Frank Reich and Stan Gelbaugh are both in back-up roles for Buffalo. In addition, John Tice, the leading receiver for the Terps as a tight end in 1983, is on the roster of the New Orleans Saints.

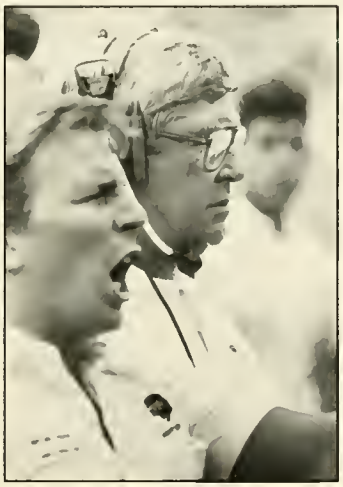
Before moving to the playing field when he assumed the head coaching duties, Krivak did his work from the press box above the field. While calling the offensive plays for the Terrapins, he molded the most prolific passers in Maryland football history. Esiason, Gelbaugh, and Dan Henning all established new Terp season and individual game records for passing and total offense.

Two of the highlights of Krivak's career occurred in the same year. Krivak was in the press box calling plays for the Terrapins when they completed the greatest comeback in NCAA football history, beating Miami (Fla.) 42-40 on October 10, 1984. The Terps rallied to beat the Hurricanes in Miami after the home team took a 31-0 halftime lead. Then, on December 22, Krivak saw the Maryland offense rally to a 28-27 Sun Bowl victory over Tennessee after being down 21-0 at the intermission.

Krivak began his football coaching career as an assistant coach at Madonna (West Virginia) High School in 1958. Three years later, he became Madonna's head coach and compiled a 50-24-2 record in eight seasons. He was also the school's head basketball coach for five years. Krivak won one football and one basketball State Catholic Championship at Madonna.

Krivak was born in Central City, Pennsylvania on March 20, 1935. His wife, Jean, is a Weirton, West Virginia native.

The Krivaks' have three sons. After winning two varsity letters on the Terrapin baseball team, Ed, 25, received his degree in engineering from Maryland in 1987. John, 23, earned three varsity letters while playing on the University of Richmond baseball team and also graduated last year. Jeff, 20, is presently a junior at the University of Maryland.



The Krivak Family: Joe and Jeannie Krivak sit in front of sons John, Ed and Jeff.

Krivak's Coaching Resume

1958-68 Madonna High School (Weirton, WV)
1958-60 Assistant Coach
1961-68 Head Coach-50-24-2 in 8 seasons

George Foussekis

Assistant Head Coach
Linebackers

Foussekis, who came to College Park in 1972, has been to 11 bowl games as a Terrapin assistant, and he developed some of the best linemen in school history along the way.

He began his coaching career at Virginia Tech in 1969, and worked with the defensive line for two years. In 1971, he served as defensive coordinator at William & Mary, replacing Bobby Ross, a man who would become his boss at Maryland. The next year he became part of the Jerry Claiborne era, and worked with the successful Terp head coach for 10 years. When Clairborne moved to Kentucky, Foussekis stayed to coach under new head man Ross. After five years as his assistant, Foussekis elected to stay on when Joe Krivak was made coach in 1987.

Foussekis numbers standout Terps like Walter White, Lloyd Burrus, Eric Wilson, and Steve Atkins among his recruits. Each moved on to the NFL, and Wilson (first team Fooball News, 1984) and Paul Velland (first team, American Football Coaches Association, 1973) each earned All-America honors.

Specifics: 43 (4-28-45).

Education: B.S. Arts & Sciences, Virginia Tech, 1968.

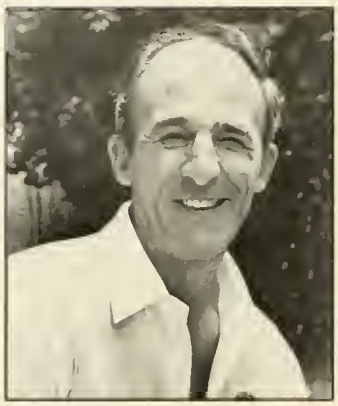
M.S. Education, Bowie State (Md.) College, 1979.

Played football at Virginia Tech, earning second team All-America honors in 1968 and honorable mention in 1966 and 1967. First team all-Big Five 1966, 1967, 1968. Competed in Liberty Bowl, 1966, and signed with Denver Broncos upon graduation.

Coaching: Virginia Tech, Defensive Line Coach, team competed in Liberty Bowl, 1969-1971. College of William & Mary, Defensive Line Coach and Defensive Coordinator, 1971. University of Maryland, Defenisve Line Coach, 1971-1981, teams won three ACC titles, competed in seven bowls. Assistant Head Coach for Defense, Linebacker Coach, teams won three ACC titles, competed in four Bowls, 1981-1986. Assistant Head Coach, Linebacker Coach, 1986-1988.

Personal: Attended Lane High School in Charlottesville,Va., where he captained the football, basketball and baseball teams. Was first team all-state in football, team won state championship his senior year.

Bob Valesente



Assistant Coach
Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks

Valesente is the newcomer to Coach Krivak's staff, but in no sense is he inexperienced. Honored with being selected the head coach at Kansas in 1985, and having served as both a defensive coordinator and as an assistant head coach during his career, Valesente brings a dimension to offensive strategy that only an experienced leader can.

As Quarterback Coach at Kansas before his elevation to the head job, Valesente's athletes rewrote a good portion of the KU recordbook, and his pupils ranked among the nation's best. He was known for his commitment to academics as the footall leader at KU, reflecting his roots in the Ivy League (he coached at Cornell for 10 years), and at Ithaca where he earned both bachelors and master's degrees.

Specifics: 48 (7-19-40).

Education: B.S. Physical Education, Ithaca College, 1962.

M.S. Physical Education, Ithaca College, 1965.

Played football and baseball, and was inducted into Ithaca's Sports Hall of Fame. Led the school to the College World Series in baseball in 1962.

Coaching: Cornell University, Defensive Coordinator of freshman team, 1964-1969. Varsity Secondary Coach, 1969-1974. University of Cincinnati, Secondary Coach, 1974-1976. University of Arizona, Secondary Coach, 1977-1979. Team went to Fiesta Bowl. Mississippi State University, Defensive Coordinator, Linebacker Coach, 1980-1981. Teams went to Sun Bowl and Hall of Fame Bowl. Baltimore Colts, Secondary Coach, 1982-1983. University of Kansas, Assistant Head Coach, Quarterback Coach, 1984-1985. Head Football Coach, 1986-1987. University of Maryland, Offensive Coordinator, Quarterback Coach, 1988.

Personal: Attended Mynderse Academy in Seneca Falls, N.Y., and played football, basketball and baseball. Valesente was in the Chicago Cubs organization for two years, but concluded he couldn't hit a curve ball, so he made football coaching a career. He and wife Joan have three children: Ginger, 22, who is married; Bob, 20; and Michelle, 8.

Greg Williams

Assistant Coach
Defensive Coordinator
Defensive Backs

Williams starts his second season as defensive coordinator and his seventh as defensive backfield coach. The promising secondary in 1988 follows in the footsteps of other units that have produced all-conference players like Clarence Baldwin, and Al and Keeta Covington.

Williams has been both an offensive and defensive coordinator during his coaching career, and at most stops he has enjoyed championship success. He has been part of ACC championships at two schools—once with his alma mater, North Carolina State, and three times with Maryland. His 1988 spring practice went better than his first as defensive coordinator a year ago. He had to install his new defense from a golf cart a year ago due to an off-season racquetball injury.

Specifics: 41 (10-20-46).

Education: B.S. North Carolina State, 1969.

Played football at State, lettering in 1965, 1966, 1967. Played in 1967 Liberty Bowl as defensive back.

Louisiana State University, Defensive Coordinator, Defensive Back Coach. University of Maryland, Defensive Coordinator, 1987-1988, coach of defensive backs, 1982-1988. Teams went to four bowls.

Personal: From Danville, Pa., where he competed on the prep level in football, basketball and baseball, earning all-state in football for Danville H.S. He and wife Mary Anne have three children: Shelly, 19 (a sophomore at Maryland); Beth, 16; and Gavin, 4.

Jeff Mann

Assistant Coach
Tight Ends/Assistant Offensive Line
Special Teams Coordinator

Mann's special teams have propelled several Terps into the ACC limelight. Rick Badanjek led the ACC in punt returns in 1983, Keeta Covington in 1984, and Covington paced kickoff returners in 1985. Freshman Mike Beasley was second among kickoff returners a year ago.

Jess Atkinson placekicked for the Redskins a year ago after a record-setting career at Maryland. Current placekicer Dan Plocki has already made the recordbook by never having missed a conversion at Maryland.

Mann came to College Park six years ago from the Metro Nautilus Fitness Center in Dundalk. He has spent almost his whole athletic career in the Maryland area, and his wife, Karen is a graduate of the University.

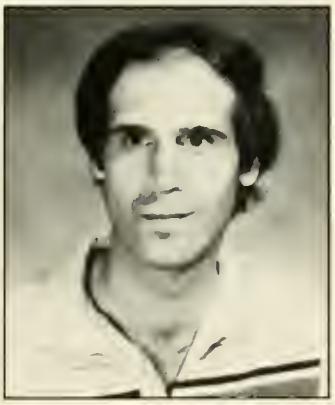
Personal: He and wife Karen have two children—Stacy, 6, Molly 2. Went to Loyola High School in Baltimore and was all-league in football and a standout in lacrosse.

John Misciagna



Recruiting Coordinator

A coach at Maryland before being made the staff administrator in 1982, Misciagna's organization makes the Terps go on the field and off. He supervises the recruiting program for football, and handles a myriad of duties, from hosting professional scouts with the tools they need to make judgments on talents, to working with the University's development organizatons, the Terrapin Club and M Club. He works with sports information and the administration to support the student-athlete, and serves the critical role of answer man for the football program. Misciagna also operates a speakers bureau for athletics at Maryland.

Misciagna was an all-conference guard at Dickinson College, captaining both his football and track and field teams. His undergraduate degree is in Comparative Literature. While coaching at Columbia, he earned a master's degree at the Ivy League school. He was the wide receivers coach at Maryland under Head Coach Jerry Claiborne before assuming his administrative duties.

Dennis Murphy

Assistant Coach
Defensive Line

Murphy is a motivator whose coaching base of operations broadened a year ago to adjust to a new defensive scheme by the Terps, a multiple look on the frontline. Murphy is in charge of all the down linemen in the formation after having specialized in coaching the defensive guards for four Maryland bowl teams.

An outstanding player at Notre Dame whose post-graduate exploits came not on the professional playing fields, but in the air over Vietnam as a Navy officer. In five years as a Navy Flight Officer, he was decorated five times. On the field, Murphy was good enough to play in the North-South Shrine game and earn a contract with the Los Angeles Rams.

Murphy's experience includes Division I stints as both offensive and defensive coordinator, and he has helped nine teams reach bowls during his career. Murphy earned a master's degree at Notre Dame while performing his coaching duties.

Specifics: 47 (10-22-40)

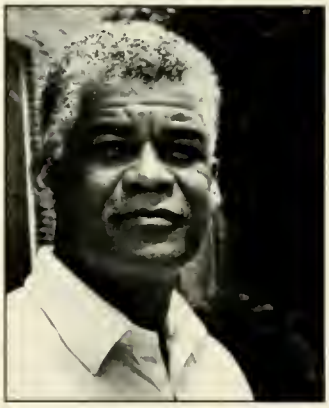
Dick Portee



Assistant Coach
Receivers

Portee's view of the Maryland program is unique. He enters his second season as receivers coach, and his charges a year ago were exceptional. A defensive coach for five years before that, he coached the outside linebackers. When he came to Maryland in 1982, he not only had on-field coaching and recruiting duties, but was in charge of film exchange and eligibility as well.

Portee's first two jobs in coaching were at his alma mater, Eisenhower High School, Decatur, IL (1965-69). He then went to his alma mater, Illinois State University in 1969 as freshman coach and served as defensive coordinator and the defensive secondary coach. He was named Assistant Athletic Director in charge of eligibility and also coached the offensive backfield and wide receivers in those five years at Illinois State, 1969-76. While there, he was also a member of the faculty.

In 1976, he went to Cornell where he was secondary coach through the 1977-81 seasons.

His willingness to get involved in a variety of areas has followed him to Maryland.

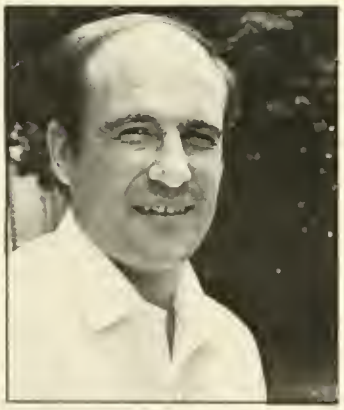
Kurt Van Valkenburgh



Assistant Coach Defensive Ends

Kurt Van Valkenburgh joined Maryland's staff in 1986 after serving as defensive coordinator at Vanderbilt and secondary coach at Virginia. He directs the defensive ends who fill the role of outside linebackers in the scheme of the Terp playbook.

Van Valkenburgh has spent the best portion of his 16 years as coach directing linebackers and the secondary. He coached Paul Lawlor, who led the nation in interceptions, while at Colgate. His Vanderbilt secondary set a school record for interceptions, and the Commodores went to the Hall of Fame Bowl while he was in Nashville. Vandy defensive back Leonard Coleman was a first round pick in 1982 after working under Van Valkenburgh.

MEDICAL STAFF

Dr. Stan Lavine

Team Physician

Dr. Lavine's role at Maryland has been to make the Terrapins go, whether as an undergraduate standout in football, or as the team physician for almost three decades.

A native of Pittsburgh where he attended Schenley High School, Dr. Lavine matriculated at Maryland to prepare for his medical career, and played initially for the immortal Clark Shaughnesy, one of football's great innovators. By the time of his 1950 graduation, he had led Maryland under Head Coach Jim Tatum to a 9-1 record and a 20-7 win over Missouri in the Gator Bowl as the team's quarterback. After graduating from the University's Medical School, he interned in hospitals in Philadelphia and Cleveland, served two years in the Air Force, and then began his orthopedic medical practice and work with Maryland's athletic teams.

Dr Lavine attends all football games, home basketball games and some road games, and he is on call at all times for the athletes on the University's 23 sports teams. His professional reputation is national in scope, and many prominent athletes have sought his treatment. He was team physician for the Washington Redskins (1975-1985), and was there for two Super Bowls. He was the team physician for the Washington Bullets when they won the NBA Championship. He is the team physician for the Washington Diplomats soccer team. He presentley works at Sibley Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Walter Camp Award

The Walter Camp Football Foundation (New Haven, Conn.) annually presents a player of the year award to the top individual in collegiate football.

Bob Pellegrini '56 was honored following his senior season.

Lombardi Award

The Rotary Club of Houston each year presents the Lombardi Award to the lineman of the year in college football.

The award is presented to the offensive or defensive lineman or linebacker who best combines athletic performance with the discipline of Vince Lombardi, the former Green Bay Packer coach.

DT Randy White, '75, was honored following his senior season.

Outland Trophy

The Outland Trophy is presented annually to the outstanding interior lineman (guard, tackle or center) in collegiate football by the Football Writers Association of America.

The award is given in memory of John Outland, a Pennsylvania graduate and Football Hall of Fame selection, who remained active in athletics in his native Kansas, while being known as the first doctor in state history to fly his patients.

Since the inception of the award in 1946 two Maryland players were selected:

DT Dick Modzelewski, 1952
DT Randy White, 1974

Jacobs Blocking Trophy

The Jacobs Blocking Trophy is awarded annually by William and Hugh Jacobs of Clinton, S.C., to the player voted the outstanding blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference in a poll of the head football coaches. The trophy is given in memory of William P. Jacobs, who served as president of Presbyterian College from 1935 to 1945, by his sons.

Three Maryland players were awarded the honor:

Bob Pellegrini, C - 1955
Ralph Sonntag, OT - 1969
Dave Pacella, OT - 1982

All-Americas of Undefeated '55 team — Tackle Mike Sandusky, Halfback Ed Vereb, Center Bob Pellegrini, End Bill Walker.

Three Terrapins have been inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame and enshrined at the Hall of Fame in Kings Island, Ohio.

The first Maryland player selected was Robert "Bob" Ward, the Terrapins All-American lineman and four year letterman (1948-51). Ward was inducted in 1980.

Quarterback Jack Scarbath was inducted in December of 1983. Scarbath, in addition to All-American honors, was runnerup for the Heisman Award in 1952 after leading Maryland to a 28-13 win over National Champion Tennessee in the Jan. 1, 1952 Sugar Bowl.

The late James M. Tatum was selected for the Hall of Fame in 1984. Tatum led the Terps to the National Championship in 1953 and in nine years as the Maryland coach recorded a 73-15-4 record. While also serving as Director of Athletics, he took the Terrapins to the Gator Bowl twice (1948 and 1950) the Sugar Rowl (1952) and the Qrange Bowl twice (1954 and 1956).

1953 was the first year of the ACC Duke (4-0) and Maryland (3-0) tied for the title. The Terps, ranked number one in both AP and UPI polls, lost to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. Maryland scored 298 points, the most by a team through 1967. On defense, it allowed only 38 points in 11 games.

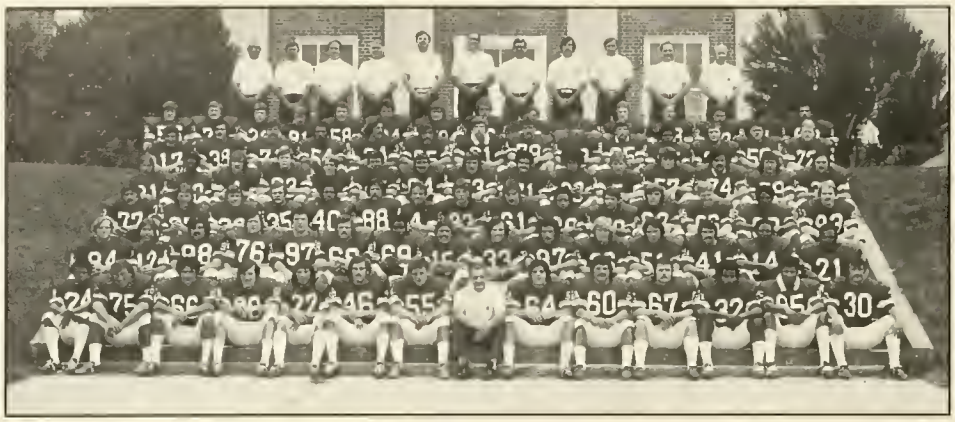
Top Terps in the ACC, 1974, 1975

1974



Maryland finished with a 6-0 ACC mark, the 10th time in league history a team had gone unbeaten in conference action, while Clemson, North Carolina and N. C. State all tied for second with identical 4-2 marks. The Wolfpack finished ninth in the UPI poll while Maryland finished 13th. The league enjoyed a 21-14 record against outsiders for its best mark in history.

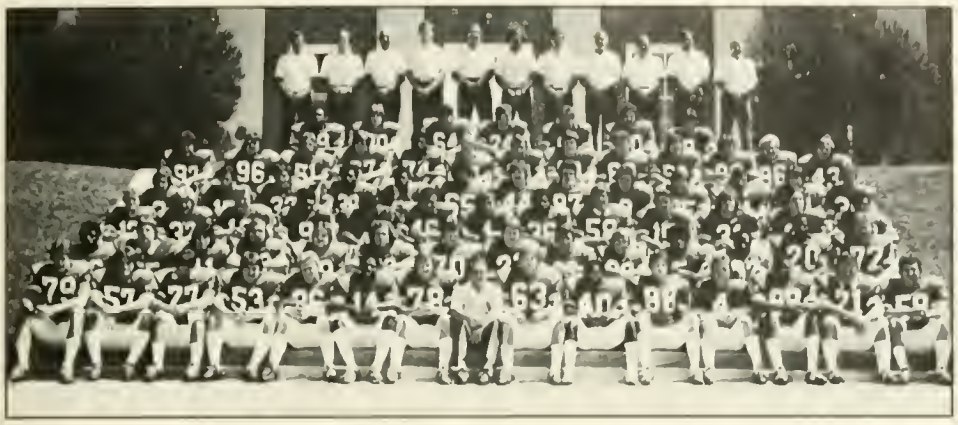
1976



Maryland made it three outright championships in a row, only the second school to accomplish the feat in ACC's 24-year history, by sweeping all 11 games enroute to a perfect regular season. Coach Jerry Claiborne's club extended its conference victory string to a record 20 straight and accepted a bowl invitation for the fourth consecutive year. The Terps, who were ranked among the nation's top 10 the entire season, fell to Southwest Conference Champion Houston in the Cotton Bowl, 30-21.

Maryland made it three championships in a row by going undefeated in ACC play. It was the sixth title for the Terps, all over the last dozen years, to go with two earlier co-championships. Georgia Tech, competing for the crown for only the third year, finished in second place. Maryland defeated Syracuse, 35-18, in the Cherry Bowl and Georgia Tech turned back Michigan State, 17-14, in the All-American Bowl. Maryland placed 18th in the AP and 19th in the UPI while Georgia Tech ffinished 19th in the AP and 18th in the UPI.

The first capacity crowd in Gator Bowl history — attendance was 16,666 that day — witnessed one of the greatest games in the storied history of the bowl. A young Maryland team, underdog to an experienced Georgia squad, got up by 13 points in the fourth quarter and eventually settled for the 20-all tie. Lou Gambino was a one-man wrecking crew for the Terrapins, scoring the only touchdown of the first half on a 35-yard run. In the second half, after a Georgia score, Gambino scored on a 1-yard run and on a 24-yard pass from John Baroni. A series of special teams miscues — namely a short kickoff and mishandled punt — set up Georgia's comeback. Despite the tie, there was no question as to the game's most valuable player. Gambino won the Burkhalter Award, signifying the game's outstanding performer.

Three times in the first half Missouri turned the ball over and all three times Maryland took it in for touchdowns as the Terrapins handed the Tigers their second consecutive Gator Bowl loss. Defensive back John Idzik set up Maryland's first score with a 26-yard interception return to the Mizzou 11. Bob Shemonski scored on a sweep on the next play, and the rout was on. Ed Modzelewski scored on a three-yard run to give the Terps a 13-0 lead and Shemonski capped Maryland's scoring later in the second quarter with a six yard touchdown run. Maryland's final two scores were set up by Missouri fumbles. The Tigers did not score until late in the fourth quarter to finish the scoring. In recognition for a stellar performance, Maryland tackle Bob Ward was selected the game's most outstanding performer and awarded the Burkhalter Trophy.

In a game historians even today call the biggest win in Maryland football history, Jim Tatum's Terrapins upset the nation's No. 1 ranked Tennessee Volunteers of Gen. Bob Neyland. Buoyed by the running of All-American fullback Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski (153 yards on 28 carries) and All-American quarterback Jack Scarbath, the No. 3 ranked Terps scored three TDs before the Vols got one in the first half for a 21-6 lead. They put the game out of reach in the third quarter with a 46-yard interception return TD by Ed Fullerton for a 28-6 margin lead. The Terrapin defense was brilliant all afternoon.

The Terrapins took another undefeated (10-0) record and the nation's No. 1 ranking in their second Orange Bowl visit in three years, and again played Oklahoma. The Sooners, completely unawed by the Terps National Championship team, staged a second quarter land rush to score the only score on a 25-yard sprint by team captain and halfback Larry Grigg. The Terrapins suffered a major setback when All-American Bernie Faloney could not start because of severe ankle injury. He entered the game in the 3rd quarter for five plays, but was unable to continue.

Oklahoma — Harris, 9 for 63; Burris, 9 for 34.

The victory extended Oklahoma's winning streak to 30 games and snapped Maryland's 15-game winning string. The Terps were No. 3 ranked and the Sooners, No. 1. This was a reversal of the '54 Orange Bowl two years earlier as the Terps were the No. 1 team in the nation, and the Sooners, No. 3. The Terps held a 6-0 halftime lead and then were bewildered by three Sooner second half touchdowns for their second Orange Bowl win over the Terps.

Maryland came away from its first bowl game in 18 years a bitterly disappointed team. The Terrapins had dominated Georgia in all phases of the game. Both teams scored 10 first half points. The Bulldogs went up, scoring in the third after recovering a Terp fumble. Seven times, the Terrapins were inside the Georgia 20-yard line that ended in three Mike-Mayer field goals. On four of the seven occasions, they were within the 13 and came away with zero points.

Tennessee scored their only but winning touchdown with 2:08 left in the game. The winning score came on a 11-yard pass from second string quarterback Randy Wallace to end Larry Seivers. It was Wallace's only pass of the game. The Terps were punting from their 13 when a bad snap from center was recovered by the Vols on the Terps 7. After a loss of 4 yards, Wallace threw for the score. The Terps put on a desperation drive and an apparent 20-yard TD winning reception was ruled out of bounds.

The ACC champion Terrapins upset the seven-point favorite Florida Gators in a game played in a steady downpour. The Terps had posted their best season record in 20 years (8-2-1). They intercepted three Florida passes, turning two of them into scores, a 19-yard touchdown pass to Kim Hoover from Larry Dick and 20-yard field goal by Mike Sochko for a 10-0 half time lead. Sochko added a 27-yarder in the fourth quarter. It was the first Terp win over a SEC team since 1955. The Gators went into the game (9-2) as the SEC's total offense leader.

For the second consecutive year, the Terps were invited to a bowl game with an 8-3 record. Quarterback Boomer Esiason was sacked on the second play of the second quarter and suffered a shoulder injury forcing Frank Reich to take over. The Terps took a 20-16 lead into the fourth quarter, but the Vols scored twice, the second after an interception return to the 14, to get the advantage. Jess Atkinson kicked 5 field goals for the Terps.

The fantastic comeback year. Trailing the Volunteers 21-0 at halftime, the Terrapins showed coming back from halftime deficits was nothing new. They erupted for 22 third quarter points and a fourth quarter score with 5:35 left to play for the win. It was on November 10, they had fallen behind Miami, 31-0, at halftime but rallied for a 42-40 victory in the greatest comeback in major college history. Rick Badanjek had a pair of scores while QB Frank Reich was 17 of 28, 201 yards and one touchdown for the ACC and Sun Bowl champions.

The University of Maryland's commitment to academic support and graduation of the student-athlete is unparalleled in collegiate athletics. This commitment is represented by the recent formation of the Academic Support Unit.

Directed by Dr. Gerald Gurney, the Academic Support Unit is an intensive program of assessment, skill development and counseling that is offered to every University of Maryland student-athlete. The Academic Support Unit serves the student-athlete with individualized study and tutorial services, career development programs, study skills and both academic and psychological counseling. The Unit takes a strong, no-nonsense approach to academic development, which directly reflects the personal commitment and combined experience of its staff.

Dr. Gurney joined the Maryland staff in 1987, after tenures at Southern Methodist University and Iowa State, institutions which under Gurney's direction were lauded for their nationally-recognized academic support programs. Dr. Gurney earned his Ph.D. in higher education administration from Iowa State in 1980. He received a master's degree in counseling and student personnel work and a bachelor of science in English education, both from Ohio State University.

The staff which Dr. Gurney has assembled for the Academic Support Unit boasts equally impressive credentials.

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston coordinates the developmental services arm of the Unit, organizing the student-athlete orientation, drug education and career programs. A licensed clinical psychologist, Dr. Adams-Gaston also coordinates the various counseling programs offered.

John Bowman, coordinator of academic counseling, Bea Pray, coordinator of certification services, and John Fritz, coordinator of student services, complete the Academic Support Unit.

Bowman coordinates academic counseling and academic monitoring. He also is in charge of verifying each students' satisfactory progress toward a degree. His extensive experience in higher education as an academic advisor on the College Park campus provides student-athletes with an excellent counseling resource.

Pray handles a variety of responsibilities relating to student services and certification, student-athlete housing, financial aid and academic counseling. She also coordinates the ever-increasing flow of certification paperwork to verify student-athletes' eligibility. Pray also supervises the distribution of special recognition awards, which each year are presented to student-athletes for outstanding achievement in the classroom.

Tutors, supervised study sessions and the athletic bookroom are coordinated by Fritz. In the past year, the athletics department has increased the number of tutors available to student-athletes to more than 100, four times last year's level.

Together the fivesome which comprises the Academic Support Unit provides each student-athlete with experienced assistance throughout their University of Maryland career ... and beyond.

Dr. Gerald Gurney: academic counseling at Maryland is personal.

John Bowman: specialists fill administrative roles designed to make sure academic and athletic goals are realized.

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston: academic counseling offers more than just a nuts and bolts thrust.

Bea Pray: experienced professionals abound in academic counseling.

Terp Strength and Conditioning

Preparing an athlete to play a particular sport is the mission of the Strength and Conditioning program at Maryland. Proper training leads to more confidence on the athlete's part, and translates into a competitive, aggressive Terrapin.

Strength and Conditioning is directed by Frank Costello, an extraordinary competitor and coach. As a Terrapin undergraduate, he was the third ranked high jumper in the world, NCAA Champion and four-time All-America. As coach he led Maryland to both the IC4A Indoor and Outdoor team titles and was NCAA District Coach of the Year. Maryland's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator since 1981, Costello adds a unique dimension in not only prescribing conditioning regimens, but also in helping to coach the whole athlete.

Costello, and assistants Dave Pacella and Steve Wetzel, begin the road to physically preparing an athlete to play their sport by conferring with that sport's coach, and then testing and evaluating the individual. Weight training, speed training, flexibility training—all could be part of a balanced prescription to excel, depending on the sport.

Maryland's commitment to strength and conditioning grows with the explosion of interest among athletes and coaches. Men's and women's sports, team and individual competition—every sport is involved. Two weight rooms now exist, with even more and better facilities part of an overall upgrading planned for the next few years.

Maryland Broadcast Group

The Maryland Broadcast Group will once again bring Terrapin fans the most comprehensive coverage of Maryland football with a 19 station network.

The flagship of the network is 50,000 watt WMAL in Washington, D.C. WMAL will feed stations throughout Maryland and Pennsylvania all the Terps' action this fall. Saturdays begin with an insightful pre-game show that includes in-depth analysis of both teams and interviews with coaches and players. The halftime show reviews first half action and features conversations with special guests. After the final gun, the post-game show wraps-up the day, including comments from Coach Krivak and a look at next week's opponent.

For the 10th consecutive season, the popular Johnny Holliday will serve as the "voice of the Terrapins". Holliday, WMAL radio personality, brings listeners closer to the game with his crisp play-by-play work. His knowledge and expertise on Maryland football enhances his game-day broadcasts.

Holliday is a multi-talented figure who is recognized nationally. Every morning, his sports updates can be heard on WMAL's highly rated Harden and Weaver show. In addition, his reports travel across the country via the ABC Information Network.

Holliday's credentials also include hosting the WMAL stadium show before each Redskins game and anchoring the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary and the Summer Games in Seoul for ABC Radio. He also can be frequently seen on the Home Team Sports cable television network, hosting the Maryland Coach's Corner, the Redskins Report, and covering various live sporting events.

Despite his busy schedule, the versatile Holliday still finds time to participate in a variety of community activities for which he was honored by Washington Magazine as "Washingtonian of the Year". His celebrity basketball and softball teams have raised more than a million dollars over the years for local charities. Holliday is also a fine actor who periodically performs at the Harlequin Dinner Theatre in Rockville, Maryland.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Clare, are the parents of three daughters: Kellie, 28, Tracie, 25, and Moira, 9.

Joining Holliday in the booth this season will be former Washington Redskin great Brig Owens. Owens, in his first year as color analyst on the network, is a 1965 University of Cincinnati graduate who went on to have an All-Pro career as a defensive back for the Redskins from 1966-78. Following his playing days, he was Assistant Executive Director of the National Football League Players Association for five years. A 1980 Antioch Law School graduate, Owens is presently a partner with the sports management law firm of Bennett and Owens in Washington, D.C.

While Johnny Holliday works for ABC Radio at the Summer Olympic Games in Seoul this fall, Ron Weber will handle the play-by-play chores on the network. Weber is most familiar to area sports fans as the voice of the Washington Capitals Hockey Club, a position he has held for the entire 14-year history of the organization. Weber will take the Terp mike for the West Virginia, N.C. State, and Syracuse games.
